

“Heaven is here, Where Juliet lives...”

Romeo: Act III Scene iii

This quote was said by Romeo in act three scene three. This quote was said after Romeo killed Tybalt and he found out that he was banished from the city of Verona. This quote basically means that Romeo doesn't want to leave Verona because it is heaven on earth. The reason that Verona is heaven on earth is because in his thought process he feels that Juliet is as beautiful as an angel. This is important to the play because in the end he kills himself because he thinks that Juliet is dead and he doesn't want to live without his angel. In real life this quote still has an impact on society. When some people are in a relationship they think that the person they are in love with is the only person in the world that can keep you grounded to earth. Some people also feel that this person is their soul mate and they will live together forever. If they end up breaking up they could go into a spiral of depression and sometimes even kill themselves.
